The 2009 National Missing & Exploited Children's Award

Investigator Wayne Cox has been selected to receive the above award for his outstanding work in the case concerning Curtis Huntzinger. The National Center for Missing & Exploited Children (NCMEC), the Fraternal Order of Police and the U.S. Department of Justice's Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention are honored to recognize his dedication to his profession. A distinguished panel of law enforcement leaders from around the nation reviewed more than 50 cases nationwide and hand-selected this case, nominated by Carol Napoli, NCMEC Forensic Science Unit, to receive special recognition.

The special award will be presented in person at NCMEC's 2009 Congressional Breakfast and 14th Annual National Missing & Exploited Children's Awards ceremony on Tuesday, May 12th on Capitol Hill.

If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to call the above.
